GUIDED ARTWALK STOPS

Follow along the guided tour to hear from featured artists and for your chance to win tickets to Eugene Symphony Guild's "Music in the Garden!"

1 5:30 PM | Vistra Framing & Gallery (411 W 4th Ave)
Diane Lewis and Lisa Livoni (left) showcase their new work of very different mediums. In "Exploring the Other Side," Diane Lewis creates abstracts in acrylic and foil. Working in watercolor and ink, Lisa Livoni's show "A Passion for Light and Color" focuses on the spontaneity of light.

2 6 PM | The Lincoln Gallery (309 W 4th Ave)
Since October, the OSLP Arts & Culture Program has partnered with the Eugene Symphony for the Art & Music Together Class. Participants in this class create artwork inspired by music and the compositions and process of Eugene Symphony guest composer Augusta Read Thomas. "Composed" features art made during this partnership and other work inspired by music. The Community Room Gallery features illustrations by James Grey. Image: Perry Johnson.

3 ♫ 6:30 PM | The New Zone Gallery (220 W 8th Ave)
Featured artist Betsy Huffsmith (left) exhibits "Wave Power, Dynamism in Nature," a study of ocean waves. The Klausmeier Room features work by 20 students and three staff members of The Child's Way Charter School, including paintings, quilts, wall textiles, glass mosaics, and photography. Live music: Students of Childs Way Charter School.

4 7 PM | MAVEN (271 W 8th Ave)
Growing up in New Mexico, Amber Allen was inspired by the vast beauty of the nighttime sky. Amber found her artistic focus when she took a class in Astronomy, taught by a fine arts major. She is drawn to satellite images because they capture the infinite beauty of space, which she highlights in her paintings.

5 7:30 PM | Passionflower Design (128 E Broadway)
A world class jeweler from McMinville, Susan features her collection of one-of-a-kind pearl and gemstone pieces. During the ArtWalk, Susan will talk about how she goes about designing a collection, where she gathers her inspiration, and how to find something just right for yourself.

GALLERIES & STUDIOS

6 Alexi Era Gallery & Projects (1712 Willamette St, Suite 100)
"Catharsis: The Art of Healing," an exhibition focusing on the cathartic spirit of the arts. International, national, and local artists pull from the therapeutical aspects of their creations to share with their audience what "healing through the arts" means to them.

7 Framin' Artworks (505 High St)
Work by Patti McNutt.

8 Goldworks Jewelry Art Studio (169 E Broadway)
Original jewelry by Goldworks staff.

9 Karin Clarke Gallery (760 Willamette St)
New colorful reduction linocut prints by George Johanson, through May 26th. Johanson has been featured in more than 60 one man shows and is represented in public and private collections including the Portland Art Museum, the Smithsonian National Collection in Washington, D.C. and the Victoria and Albert Museum in London.

10 OUT ON A LIMB Gallery (191 E Broadway)
New work by Lynn Ihsen Peterson, from tiny ceramic buildings and villages to new mosaic mirrors, art sticks, paintings, and drawings.

11 Raven Frame Works (325 W 4th Ave)
Dan Chen is an award winning artist that creates art in a wide range of media including painting, pastel, bronze, and engraved acrylic. Best known for his artistic interpretations of nature, Dan interprets classic Chinese brush calligraphy into 3D bronze.

12 White Lotus Gallery (767 Willamette St)
"Peer Gynt: Paintings by Satoko Motouji," through May 12th. These watercolor paintings were created for the Eugene Ballet as background stage design for their performances of Peer Gynt.

EAT & DRINK

13 Cowfish (62 W Broadway)
Paintings by Hambone Scotty.

14 LovaKava Kava And Kombucha Bar Bohemian Vegan Restaurant (120 W Broadway)
A multifarious collection of oil paintings and sculptures by Natasha Butsenina, Kelly McDermott, Kaylee Kirtley, Lena Demosthenes, and Dave Race. Pieces range from still life seascape scenes, surrealism, eclectic spiritual and works inspired by the Polynesian and Micronesian Islands of the South Pacific. The kava bar itself is an artistic creation of local architect Joseph Moore.

15 Starlight Lounge (830 Olive St)
Artwork by Damian McDonald. Instagram: @damianjmc.

16 Townshend's Teahouse (41 W Broadway)
Paintings by local artist Christian Ives. Inspired by very specific moments in his life, these paintings represent how reality is perceived while we are living in it. Christian's images are created with vibrant colors that are layered and textured in various ways. Some details are blurred out, while others are hyper-exaggerated, often creating multiple images.

SHOP & EXPLORE

17 Broadway Commerce Center (44 W Broadway)
The Architects in Schools program matches professional architects, engineers, and design professionals with elementary school teachers for a 6-week classroom residency. This year, participating Eugene schools included Buena Vista Spanish Immersion School, Oak Hill School, and Willagillespie Elementary, as well as Two Rivers-Dos Rios and Walterville School in Springfield. Stop by to see some of the great design projects created by these 3rd -5th grade students!
